CADD services

Other CADD services require project management. Ours offers it.

Not happy with your existing CADD (computer-aided design and drafting) support? It's no wonder. Many offshore service providers today struggle with operational or qualitative issues. And domestic providers are often limited in their capacity, reach, or responsiveness. You're left with rework and added cost.

If your CADD services provider is leaving you in need of solutions, you need us.

No more bad CADD

KellyOCG® offers a turnkey, outcome-based solution for CADD services that will improve the quality of your end-product. We're a trusted provider with expertise in deploying the right technical talent for your projects and managing it through delivery in a fully outsourced model, as an outcome-based solution. We completed more than 300 CADD projects last year.

We deliver high-quality, flexible, and responsive CADD drafting and design services. Our solutions are available for end-to-end management of ongoing CADD projects, including project management, and can be configured for delivery on-site, off-site, or as a virtual or distributed work model.

Features and advantages

- World-class resources We bring decades of expertise in delivering CADD talent, backed by the strength and reach of a leading global organization.

- Access to talent We provide a team of CADD drafters, project managers, and professional operational leadership. But you don't need to manage our talent.

- Administrative excellence We manage the team, and equip it with current generation, state-of-the-art CAD platforms, including Autodesk® applications. You get a quality, finished product.

- Cost savings We can help to end overspending on internal or external resources. Get a fixed price, or pay per piece, versus paying for and keeping resources on staff.

- Time savings Avoid rework … we guarantee a quality end-product. You'll get more time for your core focus, even as your timelines continue to shorten.

- Retain IP (and talent) You retain IP and ownership of the final product. We ensure IP security by using industry standard approaches, including NDAs and secure file access.
